Both holiday voyages feature the Stewards of Nature program, which invites guests to discover and value nature through hands-on, interactive learning for children and teens ages 7-17, as well as family members. Every day of the cruise, there is a combination of naturalist-led island and/or beach excursions, science activities, crafts, games, and other adventures. While all of the activities on the itinerary are included for children and teens through the fee of US$349 that reserves the program for them, family members are invited and encouraged to participate in most activities for the additional cost of the shore excursions.
